There is a risk of substantial loss associated with trading in equities, futures, options, leverage, etc. Before investing, please carefully consider your financial position and risk tolerance to determine if the proposed trading style is appropriate and seek appropriate professional advice. Investors should realize that when engaging in leverage, trading in futures, commodities and/or granting/writing options one could lose the full balance of their account. It is also possible to lose more than the initial deposit. All funds committed should be purely risk capital. The portfolio risk management process includes an effort to monitor and manage risk but should not be confused with and does not imply low risk. The risks and mitigation measures at the fund level are enumerated below: Concentration Risk: Applicable as per the SEBI (AIF) Regulations, 2012 and adhered to at all times, Foreign Exchange Risk: Not Applicable, Leverage Risk: As per the SEBI (AIF) Regulations, 2012 and adhered to at all times. Realization Risk at Fund and Investee Company level: Realization value from the investments may not fully protect our investment in all cases. Strategy Risk at Investee Company level: Low, Reputation Risk: At fund level, continuous monitoring mechanism of investments and appropriate controls are in place.

Environmental, Social and Corporate Governance Risks: At fund level: Robust mechanism is in place. At investee company levels: Data on extra-financial risks is available in public domain while details of leverage risk at investee company levels are not available; Realization risk and strategy risk (i.e. change in or divergence from business strategy at investee company level) is not applicable.
